MCC to build shelters for city homeless

Rapid survey identifies 378 destitutes last night

Mysuru, Sept. 14 (RK&BCT)- While the State Government is actively implementing various schemes aimed at providing shelter to the homeless, a significant number of individuals still lack proper accommodation. For them, the sidewalks and storefronts serve as makeshift shelter at night.

In a rapid survey conducted by the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) Officials and Officers and staff from Deendayal Antyodaya Yojana National Urban Livelihoods Mission (DAY-NULM), in collaboration with various NGOs last night, a total of 378 destitute individuals were identified within the jurisdiction of the MCC in different parts of the city.

The survey commenced at 10:30 pm and continued until 2 am with a continuation planned for tonight. The MCC has been conducting such surveys frequently. A previous survey on Dec. 29, 2022, identified 78 destitutes, while 124 homeless individuals were identified on Dec. 31, 2022. Of the 78 destitutes, 62 were men and 16 were women. Of the 124, total 97 were men and 27 were women.

Data from the MCC indicates that while 202 homeless individuals were identified at the end of 2022, the current count stands at 378 after the first day of the survey on Sept. 13, 2023, with one more day of the survey remaining. The exact number of male and female destitutes will be determined after the survey concludes tonight. Last night's survey was led by MCC Commissioner Ashaad-ur-Rahman Shariff, Addl. Commissioner M.J. Roopa, Asst. Commissioners, Development Officers, Environment Engineers, Health Inspectors and Supervisors from MCC Zonal Offices.

Mysuru, Sept. 14 (BLU&BS)- B.G. Dinesh, Senior Civil Judge and Member-Secretary of District Legal Services Authority (DLSA), said "Children are taking the extreme step of suicide due to stress both at school and home."

He was speaking after inaugurating World Suicide Prevention Day, on the theme 'Creating Hope Through Action', organised by Health and Family Welfare Department, District Administration, District Mental Health Programme Wing, DLSA, School Education and Literacy Department, at DHO Office in Nazarbad this morning.

"Children undergo stress both at school and home to perform, without giving them a choice to pursue their interest. We should get into the root of cause for suicide, as such incidents are reported every 45 seconds across the world. Focus should be on bringing the rate of suicide to zero. If we succeed in reaching the root cause, we can also prevent it," he opined.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

BHARAT SANS INDIA: The rather brash move to push and promote India's identity as 'Bharat' and only 'Bharat' is to pit one identity against another. Perhaps it arises out of a desire to create a new mythology of Indian nationhood after the British Raj's brutalisation of Indian culture. It is an act of executive vandalism because the ruling party tends to think that it can push anything by the sheer force of majority in its numbers, even if that comes to pigeon-hole the national identity of our country by re-branding it, without caring to reach a consensus first.

The grapevine has it that the government is likely to bring a resolution to rename India as Bharat in the upcoming special session of Parliament. If this turns out to be the case, it would amount to robbing India of its international and cosmopolitan identity and reducing it to the narrower view of India that the Sangh Parivar loves to uphold. How can a transitory government dare to tinker with a matter as important as the name of the nation itself without taking her people on board? Just because the BJP feels allergic to, and intimidated by, a motley political coalition banding together to dislodge it that shrewdly christened itself as I.N.D.I.A, it cannot rob Bharat of its Indianness.

But is not the Bharat versus India binary somewhat misleading? We need the timelessness of Bharat alongside the cosmopolitanism of India. Gandhiji often harked back to a pre-historic 'golden age' of godliness, simplicity and humility — which was surely the archetype of traditional Bharat. He insisted that India's future lay in a return to simple village life, not industrialisation. His distaste for synthesised drugs and surgery, which he associated with Western medicine, are well-known. With a vast majority of people living in the countryside, our political and social leaders and our intellectual elite always put India in an adversarial relationship with Bharat. On top of it, changing the name of the country would count as the most anti-Indian and thus the most glaringly anti-national act undertaken by a government." —Prasenjit Chowdhury in Deccan Herald

Man wears women's clothes to work

Beijing: A 36-year-old former computer programmer and cosplay enthusiast has been getting a lot of attention on social media for his decision to wear flamboyant Lolita-style dresses and makeup to work every day.

The man, who goes by the name of D-Jiang, has always been fascinated by Lolita and Gothic Lolita fashion, even wearing some female attires at various cosplay events, but for the past two years, he has been wearing his cosplay garments on a daily basis and spending hours every morning putting on his flashy makeup before going to work. His wife, who shares his love for Lolita fashion, not only approves of his unusual dressing style but regularly helps him put on his makeup. D-Jiang said that he doesn't really care what others think of his unique dressing style, because what's important is that he likes it.

Wild oat seeds that 'walk' to planting ground

New York: Certain species of wild oats have a special seed dispersal system that looks as if the seeds are walking on the ground looking for suitable soil to take root in.

Modern-day oats (Avena sativa) have been drastically altered through domestication and are entirely dependent on humans for their survival. Not only do they need to be drilled into the soil, but the seeds remain attached to the panicle to make them easier to harvest and minimize seed losses. Wild oats, on the other hand, are a completely different story. They have evolved highly specialised anatomical features that actually assist the spikelets housing the seeds to move on the ground in search of suitable rooting soil. This amazing ability has won the plants several nicknames, including "Animated Oats" and "Animal Oats."

Uncleared garbage: Will MCC act?

Sir,

I am a senior citizen living in V.V. Mohalla. This is to bring to the notice of the authorities concerned that for the past 12 days the debris/garbage is not cleared from the lane behind my residence, though I had requested the daily garbage cleaner and the driver of the garbage van on duty. Later on I had also complained to the control room at MCC but till date nobody has turned up to attend to the problem.

Some nearby residents use the spot for dumping plastic waste, used alcohol bottles, mats, beds and more over the passersby urinate on them, thus emanating a foul smell in the area. I once again request the MCC Commissioner to look into this issue and solve the problem permanently.

Youth on cycling mission to fight single-use plastic

Mysuru, Sept. 14 (GA&BS)- Cyclist Brijesh (Brajesh) Sharma of Gujarat who is campaigning for 'Single Use Plastic Free India' has arrived in the Cultural Capital Mysuru and will be creating awareness here for a month.

A native of Morena, Madhya Pradesh, 32-year-old Sharma, who embarked on the noble cause four years ago has completed 916 days pedalling several States of the country. He started from Gujarat on Sept. 17, 2019 and has traversed 38,000 km covering 275 cities and over 8,500 villages, creating awareness among 39 lakh school and college students about the hazards of single use plastic.

Karnataka is the ninth State on his (Sharma) itinerary ever since he landed here one year ago, after Gujarat, Rajasthan, Haryana, Delhi, Uttar Pradesh, Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra and Goa. Since his year-long stay in the State, Sharma camped in Bengaluru alone for two months and visited schools, colleges and universities to spread the message against using single use plastic.

32-year-old Brijesh Sharma arrives in Mysuru after pedalling 38,000 kms, meets Yaduveer

His (Sharma) noble task came to the notice of Governor Thaawar Chand Gehlot, who summoned Sharma to his office only to congratulate him. While Bengaluru Police Commissioner B. Dayanand and Bangalore South MP Tejasvi Surya have lauded him.

Sharma who is also an animal lover, feeds animals he comes across during his expedition. The fight against single use plastic stemmed from his love towards nature, as the animals and birds will be the first victims of such discarded plastic materials.

Even though the injury to his right leg cut short of his dream of serving Indian Army, it did not deter him from embarking on the cycling expedition. Inspired by his brothers serving the armed forces, Sharma had even attended Border Security Force (BSF) recruitment rally, but lost the chance to make it due to his leg injury.

Sharma who arrived in Mysuru on Sept. 7, will be here till the culmination of upcoming Dasara festival (Oct. 15 to 24) and create awareness among school and college students along with various organisations. As part of the visit, he also called on Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) Commissioner Ashaad-Ur-Rahman Shariff yesterday and explained to him about his activities, besides seeking his cooperation.

Sharma said "The birds and animals are facing the threat of extinction due to single use of plastic. Hence I am creating awareness on bicycle across the country and have reached Mysuru now. My next destination is Kerala."

Sharma also called on erstwhile Mysore royal family member Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar. Yaduveer who collected the information about his activities, also extended his cooperation for his campaign against plastic. He (Yaduveer) also invited him to take part in Dasara related religious rituals at Palace, instructing his personal assistant to make suitable arrangements in this regard.

City flautist performs at G20 Gandharva Atodyam

A-Grade Akashvani artiste Smitha Srikiran among 78 invited by Sangeet Natak Akademi

Smitha Srikiran

Mysuru, Sept. 14 (BCT)- Dignitaries from across the world who were in New Delhi for the recent G20 summit experienced musical performances from 78 artistes that showcased India's rich musical heritage at the G20 gala dinner hosted by President Droupadi Murmu on Sept. 9 inside the Bharat Mandapam at the Pragati Maidan.

The key highlight was 'Gandharva Atodyam,' a unique musical medley featuring an exquisite symphony of musical instruments from across the country, showcasing Hindustani, Karnatak, folk and contemporary music with an ensemble of classical instruments.

Among the 78 performers drawn from across the country was Smitha Srikiran, a resident of Saraswathipuram in Mysuru city. An A-Grade flautist of All India Radio Mysuru (Akashvani), she is the Empanelled Artiste of Indian Council for Cultural Relations (ICCR), Government of India, since 2007.

'Gandharva Atodyam' was organised by Sangeet Natak Akademi and it was a three-hour performance.

At the concert, Smitha Srikiran performed Saint Purandaradasa's keerthana "Bhagyada Lakshmi Baaramma..." (Karnatak Music - Raag Madhyamavathi) with her flute. Her other performances include "Maitreem Bhajata...", "Desh Thillana and "Maadu Meikkum Kanne".

Smitha was recognised through Akashvani and the invitation was extended by Sangeet Natak Akademi.

Unique musical medley

"It was a unique musical medley featuring an exquisite symphony of musical instruments from across Bharat with an ensemble of classical instruments," Smitha told Star of Mysore. The musical arrangements encompassed usage of various rare instruments showcasing our unparalleled and unique musical heritage, she added.

"It's a matter of great pride for me and a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. The performance in front of our country's leaders and foreign guests on such a big international stage will benefit our industry in general and it was like performing on a world stage. I would like to thank the Sangeet Natak Akademi for recognising me. It was a platform for exchange and appreciation of music through which we can understand each other," Smitha said.

As the security was tight, the performers were asked to keep a low profile and every time they entered the Bharat Mandapam, they underwent seven-layered checks. Smitha landed in New Delhi on Aug. 30 and returned to Mysuru on Sept. 13.

Among the 78 artistes, 13 were ladies, a few senior citizens, child performers and visually impaired artistes. "The selection was a reflection of one earth, one family, one name ('Gandharva Atodyam') and a unifying music symbolising Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam," she said.

Rigorous rehearsals

"From Aug. 31 till Sept. 8, rigorous rehearsals were held from morning 10 till 9 pm. Initially till Sept. 4 we rehearsed at the Sangeet Natak Akademi and from Sept. 5, we were ferried to Bharat Mandapam," she explained.

The main concert, 'Gandharva Atodyam', was divided into three parts — the first performance was 'Utsaah' (Vilambit Laya - slow tempo) from 6 pm to 7 pm when the dignitaries started arriving.

The second one-hour performance was of 'Bharat Vaadya Darshanam' Part 1 (Madhya and Dhrut Laya - medium and fast tempo) from 7 pm to 8 pm.

The last performance was of 'Bharat Vaadya Darshanam' Part 2 (Madhya and Dhrut Laya - medium and fast tempo) from 8 pm to 9 pm when Prime Minister Narendra Modi and other leaders arrived after dinner. In all, the artistes had to perform for three hours, Smitha added.

The arrangements were impeccable and there was no room for any lapses. From travel, food, accommodation, all the artistes were taken care of well by the Sangeet Natak Akademi. Chairman Sandhya Purecha and Secretary Raju Das personally supervised all aspects, she said.

Rapid survey of homeless in city

They were assisted by the jurisdictional Police and several NGOs. All destitutes identified fell within the age group of 20 to 65.

The survey brought to light heart-wrenching cases of families abandoning their elders. A 56-year-old man sleeping near Apollo BGS Hospital compound revealed that he had been abandoned by his son and daughter, despite his daughter earning a substantial monthly salary at a prominent IT company, and his son working as a Government Officer.

Another woman, who was found sleeping near the MUDA Office, was homeless with her 20-year-old daughter after being expelled from their home by her son following her husband's death. She explained that her 30-year-old son worked in a private company with a good salary and social standing.

Despite chilly weather and cold winds, these individuals are forced to spend the night in harsh conditions. The survey also highlighted the dire circumstances of disabled and elderly individuals among them.

Following the identification of destitutes, MCC will categorise them based on their needs and health issues and arrange for them to be sent to destitute homes and beggars' shelters.

While there is a separate Ashraya Shelter Home for Destitute Men on Sheshadri Iyer Road, women lack a dedicated facility, as the MCC's plan to build a shelter for them remains on paper. Although officers mention plans being put into action, there has been no progress thus far.

Additional MCC Commissioner M.J. Roopa stated that they are in the process of establishing Shelter for Urban Homeless at a couple of locations, with work orders issued for the construction of four such facilities. A shelter home for destitute women near Devaraj Urs Road was previously set up by MCC but was discontinued due to dilapidation of the building and declining number of women destitutes.

The survey is being conducted with the assistance of NGOs, including Credit-I, volunteers from Nehru Yuva Kendra, JMJ Charitable Trust, Janajagruthi Samajika Vedike, Madilu Gramabhivuddhi Samsthe, Panchayat Raj Gramabhivuddhi and Farmers Service organisation, Aadhya Charitable Trust, Organisation for Development of People (ODP) and Rural Literacy and Health Programme (RLHP).

According to IPC Section 309, attempt to commit suicide is considered as an offence. Upon conviction, the guilty shall be awarded one year imprisonment or imposed fine or will be awarded both imprisonment and fine. Nowadays, the rate of dowry death cases has also come down, as in those cases earlier money was the reason. Now, even women are working, contributing to family purse, which may be the reason behind fall in dowry death cases, Judge Dinesh opined.

Brahmana Mahasabha to host women's meet in Mysuru during December

State Vice-President of Akhila Karnataka Brahmana Mahasabha N. Bhaskar Rao addressing a press meet in city yesterday as State Vice-Presidents B.R. Nataraj Jois and Pushpa Iyengar, Community leader K. Raghuram Vajpayee, Mysuru District Brahmins Association President D.T. Prakash and others look on.

Mysuru, Sept.14 (GA&DM)- In his first official visit to city after being appointed as State Vice-President of Akhila Karnataka Brahmana Mahasabha, headed by former State Advocate-General Ashok Haranahalli, BJP leader and former IPS Officer N. Bhaskar Rao said that he would strive for organising the Brahmin community.

Addressing a press meet at Patrakarthara Bhavan here yesterday, Rao, who had unsuccessfully contested the May Assembly polls from Bengaluru's Chamarajpet Constituency on a BJP ticket, said that Brahmin community too has many poor people. Maintaining that the Mahasabha will help the community students of economically backward families, he said that a State-level women's convention will be held in Mysuru in December.

Stating that the Mahasabha condemns the derogatory statements by DMK leaders on Sanatana Dharma, Rao said that both Sanatana Dharma and Hindu Dharma are one and the same as per Rigveda. Noting that there is inequality and disparity in all religions and communities, he cautioned political leaders against making irresponsible remarks targeting Hindu religion.

Alleging that Brahmin community has been unnecessarily targeted for long, Rao said the community will answer all charges against it through education, expertise and achievements. On his political future and plans to contest Lok Sabha polls, Rao said he will continue to be active both in politics and community organisation.

Name Bangalore Varsity after Kempegowda

Seer suggests CM

Mysuru, Sept. 14 (BLU&DM)- Adichunchanagiri Mutt Seer Dr. Sri Nirmalanandanatha Swamiji has suggested Chief Minister Siddharamaiah to name Bangalore University after Nadaprabhu Kempegowda, the Founder of Bengaluru.

Speaking at the inauguration of Adichunchanagiri Mysuru Branch Mutt's new building, BGS Samskrutika Kendra and Free Student Hostel in Lakshmikanthaswamy temple premises at Lakshmikanthanagar in Hebbal here on Monday, the Swamiji said that Bangalore University has now been split into three, which is an administrative decision of the Government. But the Bangalore University should be aptly named after Kempegowda.

Recalling that it was Siddharamaiah as the CM earlier, who announced official celebration of Kempegowda Jayanthi for the first time and also formed Kempegowda Development Authority, the Seer said that Siddharamaiah, who has become CM for the second time, should also name Bangalore University after Kempegowda.

Music Varsity to introduce online courses

Mysuru, Sept. 14 (RK&DM)- The Expert Committee on formation of new departments and framing of academic curriculum has decided to introduce online courses at the KSGH Music and Performing Arts University in city.

The Committee, which met at Music Varsity on JLB Road in Lakshmipuram on Wednesday, decided to introduce Certificate, Diploma, Degree and Post-Graduate Degree courses in online mode under new departments from the academic year 2023-24, for the benefit of music enthusiasts living in different parts of the State and the country.

KSGH Music and Performing Arts University Vice-Chancellor Prof. Nagesh V. Bettakote is seen with noted music director Hamsalekha, renowned violinist Padma Bhushan Vidwan L. Subramanyam, former Hampi Kannada University Vice-Chancellor and Janapada Loka Working President Prof. H.C. Boralingaiah, former Pondicherry University Pro-Chancellor Prof. Balasubramanya, cine director and script writer B. Suresh, noted playwright K.Y. Narayanaswamy, renowned dance director Syed Salahuddin Pasha and Prof. C.A. Sridhar during the Expert Committee meeting at the Music Varsity premises in city yesterday.

The Committee, headed by Music Varsity Vice-Chancellor (VC) Prof. Nagesh V. Bettakote, also favoured the introduction of classes in Blended Mode for Certificate and Diploma courses.

Prof. Bettakote said that the other decisions taken included starting of Massive Open Online Course (MOOC) courses, a web-based distance learning programme that is designed for large numbers of geographically dispersed students, appointment of Visiting Professors (Professor of Practise) in all departments and uploading of all lectures and presentations concerning the Music Varsity in the official website of the University.

In other significant decision, the University decided to introduce courses in Film Direction, Editing, Media Publicity and Script Writing. Pointing out that the University has received applications from more than 20 colleges seeking affiliation, Prof. Bettakote said that affiliation will be given only after inspection of infrastructure available there.

Unable to release water to TN, Karnataka to move Cauvery Panel

Bengaluru, Sept. 14 (Agencies)- Chief Minister Siddharamaiah yesterday said that the State will once again file a petition before the Cauvery Water Regulation Committee (CWRC), expressing its inability to release Cauvery water to Tamil Nadu.

The Chief Minister, who held a 'special emergency meeting' yesterday at the Conference Hall of Vidhana Soudha, said the Government will consult its legal team regarding releasing water and take a decision and will also once again file a petition in the Supreme Court explaining the factual situation on the ground.

Speaking to reporters after the meeting here, he said, "...we will consult the legal team whether to release 5,000 cusecs per day or not. Deputy Chief Minister D.K. Shivakumar is going to Delhi to discuss this with the legal team and also regarding filing a petition. Keeping all this in mind, we will make a decision afterwards."

Other than Shivakumar, who is also the Minister in-charge of Water Resources, Ministers of the Cauvery basin region, former Chief Ministers of all parties, senior Ministers of the State Cabinet, Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha members were invited to participate in the emergency meeting. MPs such as BJP's Pratap Simha, P.C. Mohan, Shivkumar Udasi and Sumalatha Ambarish (Independent) participated.

Siddharamaiah said he had written to Prime Minister Narendra Modi seeking time to lead an all-party delegation, but there has been no response so far.

"I will once again write another letter to the PM explaining to him about the factual position on ground, if he gives time, we will go and meet him," the CM said.

"As there is no water in our reservoirs this year, we have till Sept. 11 only released 37.7 tmcft water, while we had to actually release more than 99 tmcft by then. To save our standing crops we are now not able to release water fully," he said.

"We need 70 tmcft water for crops, 33 tmcft for drinking, 3 tmcft for industry. So, we need 106 tmcft water. But, we only have 53 tmcft from four reservoirs in Cauvery basin — KRS, Kabini, Hemavathi and Harangi — so it is not enough and that is why I said, we are not in a position to release water to Tamil Nadu," he added.

TN to continue legal battle

Meanwhile, Tamil Nadu Water Resource Minister Duraimurugan has reiterated that the Tamil Nadu Government would continue its legal battle to get the due share of Cauvery water.

"Karnataka requested the CWRC to reconsider its order to release 5,000 cusecs of water daily to Tamil Nadu for the next 15 days. We asked the Committee not to consider the Karnataka Government's representation and insisted on continuing the release of 5,000 cusecs of water," Duraimurugan told media persons yesterday.

On Karnataka CM Siddharamaiah's remark that they would approach the Supreme Court, Duraimurugan said that the TN Government would also approach the Apex Court.

"The Supreme Court is our last resort. We will approach the Top Court and our legal team will put forth our demand. The hearing of the case will come on Sept. 21," he said.

Not right to drag PM Modi's name to do politics: MP Simha

Mysuru-Kodau MP Pratap Simha has supported the State Government in safeguarding the interest of farmers. But he opposed the move to force Prime Minister Narendra Modi's intervention to resolve the dispute.

"Tamil Nadu takes all legal routes and our State Government too should follow suit. I am committed to support whatever decision that will be taken by the State. The Supreme Court has already delivered its final verdict on the Cauvery dispute in 2018. As such, it is not right to drag the Prime Minister's name into this and do politics," Simha said.

Mandya MP Sumalatha Ambarish said, "When my husband Ambarish was the Union Minister when Congress Prime Minister was at the helm, the issue could not be resolved. That forced Ambarish to resign from the Minister's post to stand by farmers of Mandya."

She alleged that the present Congress Government has not competently defended its case for years either with the authorities or Supreme Court.

"We should have been as aggressive as Tamil Nadu, which filed the application before the Supreme Court, which we should have also done," she told reporters after the meeting.

Students stage stir for PE HoD's suspension, postponement of PG exams

Mysuru, Sept. 14 (GA&BS)- Students under the banner of Dalita Vidyarthigala Okkoota staged a protest near the Round Canteen at Manasagangothri in city yesterday, demanding the suspension of University of Mysore Physical Education HoD Prof. Venkatesh and the postponement of second year exams of Post Graduation (PG) courses.

The protesters said "The PG exams are announced, but there is no gap between the papers. Hence the students don't have adequate time to prepare for the exams. Hence the exams must be postponed."

Gagan, a student of Physical Education Department, who attempted suicide alleging harassment from HoD Prof. Venkatesh is undergoing treatment at Intensive Care Unit (ICU) in a hospital. Prof. Venkatesh should be kept under suspension, the protesters demanded.

Varsity Registrar (Administration) V. R. Shylaja who visited the spot along with Registrar (Evaluation) Mahadevaiah, received the memorandum of the protesters. They also assured to prepare a new time table after taking a look into the request. While the action against Prof. Venkatesh will be taken on the basis of probe report with a high-level committee constituted in this regard.

K.R. Hospital Blood Bank gets mobile donation unit

Mysuru, Sept. 14 (PM&KS)- In a significant stride towards enhancing blood collection efforts, K.R. Hospital Blood Bank in Mysuru has unveiled a cutting-edge mobile blood donation vehicle. This innovative addition is poised to revolutionise the blood donation process, rendering it more efficient and convenient for donors.

For years, the K.R. Hospital Blood Bank has been at the forefront of organising blood donation camps to meet the ever-increasing demand for blood. The introduction of the mobile blood donation vehicle has injected fresh vigour into their endeavours.

This vehicle has been donated by ICICI Bank as part of their Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) initiative. Dr. B.S. Manjunath, K.R. Hospital Blood Bank Officer, Dr. Rajendra Kumar, Medical Superintendent of Cheluvamba Hospital and other dignitaries were present at the vehicle's inauguration.

Dr. Nayaz Pasha, Resident Medical Officer (RMO) at K.R. Hospital, elaborated on the features of the newly acquired blood donation vehicle, describing it as a fully air-conditioned one. It comes equipped with cutting-edge blood collection instruments and houses two refrigerators dedicated exclusively to blood storage.

The stand-out feature of this vehicle is its capability to accommodate two donors simultaneously, providing efficiency and convenience to both donors and medical staff alike. He said that the vehicle is well-equipped to address any potential side effects or discomfort experienced by donors during the blood donation process.

Dr. Nayaz said that in the past, extensive preparations were required, including arranging beds, cots and equipment at the camp venues for blood collection. With the introduction of the blood donation vehicle, these logistical challenges have been significantly alleviated.

Now, the vehicle can be transported to the camp venue, where blood can be collected efficiently within its confines. A single camp can yield up to 80 units of blood, simplifying the process, he added.

Tulasi Prasad, Technical Officer of the Blood Bank laboratory, highlighted the practicality of the blood donation vehicle, particularly during public blood donation camps. Various essential equipment, including sealers and weighing machines, are readily available within the mobile blood donation vehicle.

To ensure donor safety and comfort, two nurses and counsellors are present on-site. Additionally, blood is provided free of charge to eligible patients with BPL cards at the Blood Bank. Those willing to donate blood can also directly visit the Blood Bank.

Dr. Manjunath emphasised that this new addition eliminates the need for external facilities for milk and refreshments during blood donation drives.

"We can efficiently distribute blood to the entire district daily. On an average, we collect approximately 60 units of blood every month, with around 40 units originating directly from K.R. Hospital itself," he added.

K.R. Hospital gets new Medical Superintendent

Mysuru, Sept.14 (RK&DM)- Dr. H.P. Shobha, Professor of the Department of Orthopaedics, took charge as the new Medical Superintendent of K.R. Hospital, an attached Hospital of Mysore Medical College and Research Institute (MMC&RI), from the outgoing Medical Superintendent Dr. B.L. Nanjundaswamy on Monday.

Dr. Shobha had been serving as faculty of Orthopaedics Department at MMC&RI for several years.

7,000 dengue cases reported across State

CM asks people to take preventive steps

Bengaluru, Sept. 14 (KMS& BS)- After successfully navigating through the challenges posed by COVID-19, Karnataka is now grappling with a concerning rise in dengue fever cases. Despite multiple rounds of discussions and efforts by the Government to combat the epidemic in its early stages, the situation remains uncontrolled, largely due to the adverse impact of monsoon season.

The failure to effectively control the mosquito population has led to a surge in dengue cases, with over 7,000 reported across the State in recent days. It's worth noting that there is limited data available from private hospitals regarding these cases. Recognising the severity of the situation, Chief Minister Siddharamaiah has issued a warning via his X (formerly Twitter) account.

Out of the reported 7,000 dengue cases, more than 4,000 cases have emerged from Bengaluru city alone. In response to this alarming trend, the CM has conducted meetings with Government Departments concerned and issued directives to implement comprehensive precautionary measures.

The CM has instructed Health and Family Welfare Minister, Dinesh Gundurao, to ensure that adequate treatment is available for dengue patients in both urban and rural Government Hospitals. However, there is no need to panic, he said.

Situation under control in Mysuru, says DHO

Mysuru, Sept. 14 (SBD&BS)- Dr. P.C. Kumaraswamy, District Health Officer (DHO), has provided reassurance regarding the dengue situation in Mysuru, stating that dengue is under control in the district. With a surge in dengue cases across the State, the DHO shared insights into the situation in Mysuru District.

Dr. Kumaraswamy

He said that a total of 426 dengue cases have been recorded in the district from January until the present date. Among these cases, 70 patients were discharged from hospitals after being observed from morning till evening. All of them have successfully recovered, and there are no severe or critical cases in the district.

Dengue is primarily transmitted through the bite of Aedes aegypti mosquitoes, which breed in clean, stagnant water. Following this, public awareness campaigns have been launched to encourage people to prevent the accumulation of water in items such as tyres, coconut shells and other containers, he said.

Those experiencing symptoms such as fever, rashes and headaches are urged to undergo a blood test and Elisa tests are also being conducted for such patients. Various initiatives involving ASHA workers are being carried out at Primary Health Centres (PHCs).

Dr. Kumaraswamy emphasised that testing efforts are exceeding the stipulated numbers, and there is currently no cause for alarm. The District Health authorities are actively managing the situation and taking measures to ensure the health and well-being of the public in Mysuru, he added.
